"This vibrant red truly lights up a glass with its rich, ruby hues and perfect rose limn. The gracefully rivuletting legs exhibit an elegant viscosity, and the brilliant clarity of this 100% solo-varietal Merlot is on particularly pristine display when rolled across a big-bowled glass's inner walls. On the nose, the aromatic dispensation leads with a crisp cherry rim on the perimeter of the bouquet, while the darker, deeper middle evidences shades of cocoa, tar, and flourless chocolate cake. Sewing this into a cohesive whole is a very subtle weave of mint and eucalyptus. On the palate, despite early indications of delicacy as regards the body-weight from the slender composition of the legs, this is in truth a remarkably mouth-filling wine, enlivening every portion of the palate with a different characteristic: vibrant acidity, rich fruit, mouth-watering tannic architecture. The construction of the wine is masterful, moving solidly from front to mid-palate, on to an enrichingly long finish. All in all, a tautly constructed red that compresses a wide array of complexities into a solidly focused package." (CW 6.7.08)
